SPOTLIGHT SECTION:

IT'S FREE!

The FreeCycle Network:

The Freecycle Network™ is made up of 5,085 groups with 9,339,953 members around the world. It's a grassroots and entirely nonprofit movement of people who are giving (and getting) stuff for free in their own towns. It's all about reuse and keeping good stuff out of landfills. Each local group is moderated by local volunteers. Membership is free. To sign up, find your community by entering it into the search box or by clicking on 'Browse Groups' in the search box. For more information visit www.freecycle.org or visit the Freecycle Network facebook page.

Publications.USA.gov:

Publications.USA.gov: The Federal Citizen Information Center (FCIC) has been a trusted one-stop source for answers to questions about consumer problems and government services for over 40 years. FCIC, part of the General Services Administration's Office of Citizen Services and Innovative Technologies, now has a new site providing over 900 publications (mostly free) for consumers. Order in print, read online, or download as a pdf or to your eReader. Check out the 2013 Consumer Action Handbook or information catalog, Social Security information, consumer protection, money, disaster and emergency, federal programs, education, health, going green, etc. The resources and information provided are to help you make important life decisions at any stage in life!

Student On-line Achievement Resources (SOAR): FREE

SOAR is an innovative program that makes it easy for parents to play an active role in their children's education. SOAR Home is an internet-based application. Students take an assessment aligned to state standards, and SOAR directs them to individualized tutorials to improve skills where needed. Parents can monitor their children's progress from anywhere, and are provided with resource materials.

Parent components include: Easy access to their children's accounts, links to military installations, transition resources and school websites, resources for at-home learning activities including videos with ancillary materials, state-specific resources, such as state learning standards, links to Department of Education and other educational resources websites, and early literacy videos to help parents teach literacy and mathematics skills to preschoolers.

Student components include: Assessments aligned with state standards to identify their strengths and weaknesses in reading and mathematics, tutorial lessons to reinforce and review skills not mastered, videos based on specific skills with related ancillary materials, ACT/SAT prep materials including strategies, practice questions and more.

Registering for SOAR:

1. Log on to the Military Impacted Schools Association \(MISA\) website
2. Click on the SOAR button on the website.
3. Register yourself and your children.

For non Military Families registering for SOAR:

*Choose 'Civilian' in the Service Branch option

*On the Military Installation option (on the registration page) either choose the closest Military Installation to you or choose 'Other'.

4. Students can begin taking assessments immediately.
5. Parents and children can then enjoy skills resources, analysis of assessments, utilize skills tutor lessons, view parent resources, and students can take additional targeted quizzes based on one skill.

AMBER Alerts:

As of January 1, 2013, AMBER Alerts™ are now automatically sent through the Wireless Emergency Alerts (WEA) program to millions of cell phone users. If you have a WEA-enabled phone, you are automatically enrolled for the three alerts: President, Imminent Threat and AMBER Alerts. The addition of AMBER Alerts to this notification system is a result of a partnership between CTIA and the wireless industry, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), and Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). Any questions or concerns on the AMBER Alert message received on your phone should be directed to the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC), who manages the secondary distribution of AMBER Alerts. For more information contact: NCMEC, 1-800-THE-LOST (1-800-843-5678) or visit <http://www.amberalert.gov>
